

Today is possible.

OUR WEB-PORTALS

The world wide web is our daily-based "launch platform" through which we can get everywhere in the world to our visitors and customers with the most efficient and skilled service on earth concerning hydrogen and fuel-cell technologies: companies, students, professionals, teachers, researchers, privates or... simply curious people.

The italian webportal for hydrogen & fuel-cell www.hydro2power.it was developed in first release on 2004 in order to suit needs of companies and people of a well developed and complete information service and platform about hydrogen fuel-cell market and technologic milestones and breakthroughs, in order to give life to the hydrogen economy.

In 2006 Hydro2power SRL launched the new commercial brand H2planet through www.h2planet.eu that features a great web navigation experience that offer people the possibility to look and purchase all the best and highest quality fuel-cell products: demonstrative fuel-cells and toys, fuel-cell modules and components, storage hydrogen systems, stationary fuel-cell plants and back-up solutions. H2planet megastore has become first supplier of all the most important public and private research centers in Europe.

PRESS OFFICE:
Chiara Levi
chiara@h2p.it